• Artist

Hong Kyoungtack (b.1968) graduated from the Department of Painting at Kyungwon University (1995). In 2000, through his first solo exhibition 《Shrine》 at Insa Art Space, he began to get the spotlight by showcasing the 'Pen' and 'Library' Series. Kyoung Tack Hong is obsessed with an extreme sense of sophistication, paranoia of perfection, and solidity of painting with hard work and devotion. His works give us a strong sense of visual catharsis through a tight and constructive screen composition with brilliant color. 'Pen', 'Library', and 'Funkestra' Series have the reductive abstraction and divergent pictoriality with intense colors and the solid composition.

• Explanation

As the title connotes, six skies are included in a square canvas. There is a pen and pencil that seems to stretch out in each sky. In the fourth sky, two pens are placed together at both ends. Also, the pens on the left side at the top of the fourth sky overlapped the pens in the fifth sky and they were expressed in various lengths of the pen.
